Minneapolis, March 11, 2020 – Victory for “Open Sanity” showed up in force at the Minnesota Republican State Senate District Convention last Saturday. “Openly Sane” GOP US Senate candidate Bob “Again” Carney Jr. was elected unanimously as a State Convention Delegate. However – SPOILER ALERT – because 14 State Delegates were to be elected, and exactly 14 people signed up run for State Delegate, the list, with bobagain on it, was approved without debate, by unanimous acclamation (no “nay” vote was heard.)

When bobagain later began his brief campaign speech: “Hi, Bob ‘Again’ Carney Jr., I am running for the US Senate; I’m running as an ‘Openly Sane Republican...’” one person, Andy Gildea, interrupted with a loud “Boo”. During a later proceeding, Gildea yelled out something about a “looney bin”

“Hi, Bob ‘Again’ Carney Jr., I am running for the US Senate; I’m running as an ‘Openly Sane Republican,’” bobagain told the Convention and followed with something about bobagain's hypothecated "mental health advisor" – Mr. Gildea was then told by the Chair that he was "out of order" -- video will be posted later.

At the February 25th, 2020 Minneapolis Ward 13, Precinct 10 caucus, when bobagain found himself the only person attending, he introduced the following Resolution, which was passed unanimously and forwarded for consideration at the SD 61 Convention:

Resolved, that President Trump should be impeached for an "Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office [of President]", explicitly not a "high Crime or Misdemeanor", and that the Senate, during its trial, should hear expert medical and legal testimony as to the alleged "Inability", and, if President Trump is convicted "guilty as charged", shall determine during the Judgment phase of the trial, whether President Trump should be suspended until further notice from the Senate, but not removed from office.*

During the Platform Committee report, it was announced that as to Resolutions not "encouraging a specific legislative item, they were ruled out of order, and not included." While bobagain was successful in gaining the floor and introducing a motion to reconsider that determination, and to consider his resolution -- offering as a brief summary and rationale: "that President Trump should be impeached for an [citing the Constitution] 'inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office [of President]', and that would allow... because high Crimes and Misdemeanors are not alleged, that would allow Senate Judgment flexibility, including suspension, in which case Pence would be the acting President" -- the Chair responded: "the Resolutions Committee did not include that because it was not a policy resolution." The Convention Parliamentarian, Lyall Schwarzkopf, affirmed the Chair's stated conclusion; bobagain's motion died for lack of a second.

"The 'Constitutional Inability' Resolution result was disappointing, but not unexpected," bobagain commented.

"Joe wins again"

With only Washington State's result still uncertain, former Vice President Joe Biden won decisively again yesterday, carrying a solid majority of Delegates, four of six states, three of those States by double digits, and two with totals of 81% and 60%. Sen. Bernie Sanders won only North Dakota. In the Republican Super Tuesday primary, bobagain cast a write-in vote for Biden, and has endorsed Biden.

“Joe wins again,” bobagain commented.

During his SD 61 convention candidate speech Saturday, bobagain said: “I’m delighted that Biden is going to be the nominee. And I look forward to having a dialogue with all Minnesotans that can pave the way for open-mindedness in our politics, and to reduce the division and the hatred and the animosity that has come to take it over. We need to stop that.”
